

YOUNG PLAYWRIGHTS FESTIVAL

ONE-ACTS BY LOCAL STUDENT PLAYWRIGHTS
PROGRAM DIRECTED BY MEGAN KATE WARD

Are you a high school student with a passion for playwriting, directing or stage managing?

>>>This is your chance to work with professional directors and actors to gain insight, experience and feedback about your play. Discover how your work is interpreted by veterans of the theater, and learn how to workshop your script with professionals.

We are also seeking INTERNS in Directing, Stage Managing and Tech: If you are a high school junior or senior who is interested in shadowing/observing stage managing or directors, please submit your resume and a one-page letter telling us more about who you are and about your goals in the theater.

Scripts will be read by theater professionals, who will look at your storytelling, plot structure, characters and dialogue. Finalists will have a staged reading of their play on Lakewood Theatre Company's Headlee Mainstage on February 1. Each playwright will be working with a stage manager, a company of professional actors and a director.

To be presented as a part of the FERTILE GROUND FESTIVAL, a city-wide festival of new works. To learn more, visit fertilegroundpdx.org.

Submission Deadline: October 5, 2019
Selection Announced: October 12, 2019
Staged Reading: February 1, 2020

To learn more & to submit your play or resume, visit lakewood-center.org